

Playing into the Future – surviving and thriving

Call for abstracts and proposals

The 50th anniversary world conference of the International Play Association

4 – 7 July 2011, Cardiff, Wales

www.ipa2011.org

The International Play Association has its roots in Scandinavia, where it was founded in 1961. For 50 years the Association has worked across borders to raise awareness of the critical importance of play to all children across the world.

In the 1980s IPA helped ensure that play was included in article 31 of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and continues to strive for the right to play to become a reality. In 2002 Wales was the first country in the world with the foresight, commitment and sense of adventure to adopt a national policy for play. Those qualities link us directly to the origins of IPA 50 years ago. We look forward to welcoming you to Cardiff for the 18th IPA World conference.

Theresa Casey, President, International Play Association

International Playwork Camp

1 - 3 July 2011

We are offering a two night camp in mid-Wales for 50 IPA members (who have registered as delegates for at least two conference days between 4 and 7 July). The number of UK delegates is restricted so as to ensure this is a truly international event. Booking starts 1 September 2010 - there is an additional registration fee for this event, find out more at www.ipa2011.org

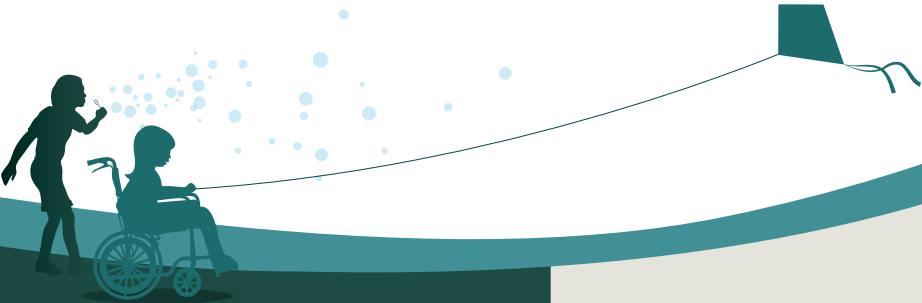

Call for abstracts and proposals

How do we create a future where playing is valued and where every country and neighbourhood upholds all children's right to time, freedom and a safe enough environment for playing in their own way?

The 18th conference of the International Play Association offers four days to share with colleagues from around the world:

- evidence of the value of playing
- evidence of the value of providing for play
- experience and examples of good practice in promoting and supporting children's play

Contributions are welcomed from disciplines and policy backgrounds that have an interest in, or an impact on, playing children and young people – for example, education, health, play provision, youth provision, play therapy, urban and landscape design and planning.

Saesneg yw iaith cynhadledd fyd-eang yr IPA, ond mae Chwarae Cymru wedi ymrwymo i gefnogi siaradwyr Cymraeg i gyflwyno papurau neu weithdai yn eu hiaith eu hunain.

The language of IPA world conferences is English, however, Play Wales is committed to supporting Welsh speakers to present papers or workshops in their own language. Contributions from non-IPA members are welcome.

The IPA 2011 Programme Advisory Group invites the submission of abstracts and proposals under the conference themes for:

- Paper presentations at workshop sessions (30 minutes)
- Paper presentations to the full conference (30 minutes)
- Workshops (one hour including delegate participation)
- Symposia (90 minutes, groups presenting on a chosen theme with delegate participation)
- Poster presentations and non commercial exhibitions, including mobile play provision to be exhibited in the conference venue car park
- Film presentations

The deadline for submissions is 10 November 2010 – abstracts and proposals will be peer reviewed by the Programme Advisory Group and should be submitted by email using the forms available on the conference website at www.ipa2011.org. Successful submissions will be notified in January 2011.

Themes

Play – Individual and Social

- Play and its contribution to adaptation, healing, resilience, risk-management, social wellbeing, emotional literacy and learning
- Play deprivation, bias and extremes (the effects on children of having no opportunity to play, or only being able to play in a very limited or extreme way and how these effects might be overcome)
- Play and identity
- Play and the playwork approach
- Play and the reflective practitioner

Play – Environment and Space indoor, outdoor, virtual, urban or rural

- The environment, space and time within which playing occurs – is promoted or inhibited – whether planned by adults or not
- Providing environments where children and young people can create and manage risk and uncertainty
- The influence physical and/or emotional environments have on play

Play – Society and Culture

- Play and policy making
- Freedom to play and the structures of society and communities – social divisions, material divisions, mobility and inequality
- Play cultures and folklore
- Playing, ethnography and children's geographies
- War, conflict and play

Please go to www.ipa2011.org for further information and guidance on abstract and proposal submission and to download the submission form for completion.
